Guest Lecturer on Artificial Intelligence - Report

The Department of Computer Science conducted Guest Lecturer on “Artificial Intelligence” for our Department Students on 28th January 2022 between 11:00 PM to 12:00 PM through Google Meet. The Resource person for the webinar was Dr.J.Lakshmi, Associate Professor, PG Department of Computer Science, Bhaktavatalam Memorial College for Women, Chennai. Artificial intelligence is the ability of a computer or a robot controlled by a computer to do tasks that are usually done by humans because they require human intelligence and discernment by definition. She explained about three types namely Artificial Narrow Intelligence (ANI) , Artificial General Intelligence (AGI) , and Artificial Super Intelligence (ASI). She explained these types of AI with examples. She also denoted that an artificial brain (or artificial mind) is software and hardware with cognitive abilities similar to those of an animal or human brain. The ultimate goal of creating a machine exhibiting human-like behavior and intelligence is sometimes called strong AI. Then she explained some of the AI applications and their uses with suitable examples. Basically these are the essentials which we have to keep in mind while developing an AI program or an application. A total of 55 students were participants actively joined the webinar. It was an extremely informative and an interactive session where students acquired enough basic knowledge on Artificial Intelligence. The students were very keen for this guest lecturer and learned a lot about Artificial Intelligence. This guest lecturer would certainly help them understand their subject in a new perspective to arrange such talk in the future also.
